

Silent Night

My favorite Christmas song is Silent Night sung by an entire church congregation on Christmas Eve. This has been a tradition practiced by my family ever since I was a young boy. The darkness of the church and the lighting of the candles evoke joyful emotions within my soul and is the highlight of my Advent season. I see the faces of children and adults I have known, and those memories continue to sustain me throughout my whole life. I feel blessed to be a part of Covington First Presbyterian Church where the tradition of singing "Silent Night" continues.
